

TIGERS SURPRISED BY COLUMBIA MEN

Princeton Was Outplayed First Half.

GOTHAMITES' FINE DEFENSE

Throw Back Attack of Sons of Nassau Until Toward Close of the Game.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Twelve thousand football enthusiasts who gathered this afternoon at the American League Park to witness the gridiron struggle between Princeton and Columbia were as much surprised at the game put up by the Blue and White supporters as were the Tigers, who had not been looking for the fight which Columbia gave them.

Princeton won eventually by the score of 12 to 0, but her team did not cover itself with glory. The greater credit belongs to Columbia.

With a combination that has played together only a week Columbia put up a surprisingly good game. In the first half she did better work than her rivals. In the second half she weakened somewhat, under the fierce and determined Princeton attack, and the Tigers crossed her line twice. In some departments of the game Columbia constantly showed up better than did Princeton. This was particularly noticeable in kicking, where Carter outpunted Daub on nearly every exchange.

Columbia had the kick-off and Carter sent the ball to Princeton's 12-yard line. Princeton punted to Columbia's 45-yard line. Columbia was given fifteen yards, however, because Donovan's catch was interfered with. Columbia started with a rush, her attack being as fierce as has ever been seen on a local gridiron. Successive rushes carried the ball to Princeton's 25-yard line without a pause. Then Princeton held for downs, but was unable to gain her distance and kicked. Princeton recovered the ball on downs again only to lose it on Daub's fumble.

Columbia was unable to advance the ball and Carter punted to Bard. Daub fell back for a kick. Princeton's line men were penalized for holding and Columbia got the ball on Princeton's 25-yard line. Three times Columbia gained her distance and then was held. An exchange of punts put the ball on Columbia's 45-yard line, where she was penalized fifteen yards on her first down.

Carter punted, but good work by the Princeton men brought the ball back in their possession to the same point it started from. Princeton kept up her rushes, making her distance time and again. Cooney, Ots and Bard were the best ground gainers. The advance being stopped until the ball was on Columbia's 15-yard line, where it was penalized fifteen yards on her first down.

Princeton Held. Tooker kicked off and E. Fisher brought the ball back to Columbia's 25-yard line. McCormick, who had replaced Ots at fullback, proved strong, and Columbia could not gain easily. Carter punted to midfield. Repeated smashes against the Blue and White line carried the ball to Columbia's 25-yard line. Daub, Cooney, and McCormick carried the ball to the Princeton 10-yard line.

Columbia put up a wonderful defense and secured the ball. Carter punted, but E. Dillon brought the ball back to Columbia's 20-yard line. Cooney was not to be defied, and ball was carried over. Cooney kicked the goal. Von Salza was injured in the Princeton 10-yard line and Helmerick took his place. Score: Princeton, 0; Columbia, 0.

Carter kicked off and McCormick captured the oval. Bard kicked. Collins replaced Donovan at quarter. Columbia could not gain, and Carter kicked. Princeton, by three and four of twenty, twenty, and fifteen yards, respectively, carried the ball to Columbia's 25-yard line. Cooney made a hole through which Daub made fifteen yards. McCormick went five yards more for a first down on the 15-yard line. Cooney cut down three or four yards. Daub and Daub made the other yard for the first down on the 10-yard line. Cooney cut down three or four yards. Daub and Daub made the other yard for the remaining seven yards. Cooney kicked the goal. Score: Princeton, 12; Columbia, 0.

Carter kicked to Munn, who had replaced Bard, and he brought the ball back twenty yards. Helmerick replaced McCormick, and O'Brien took Tooker's place. Willett kicked and Collins captured the ball. Cooney and O'Brien made fifteen yards around O'Brien's end. The half ended without further scoring. Result: Princeton, 12; Columbia, 0.

PENNSYLVANIA'S REASON FOR DEBARRING DRAPER

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 28.—It was today announced that the reason why the Pennsylvania athletic committee declared ineligible Draper, the crack tackle whom the Red and Blue was depending upon to do most of the ground gaining in the Harvard game, and at one time was regarded as a coming world champion, is that Draper received his board and tuition at Harvard because he was a member of that team. This forever bars Draper from representing Pennsylvania.

NORTHWESTERN PLAYER AN OLD PRIZEFIGHTER

CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—Athletic circles have been shaken by the discovery that Northwestern University has a former professional prizefighter on its football eleven. Dave Barry is the former lightweight champion boxer of Canada, participant in many widely advertised ring battles in the United States, and at one time was regarded as a coming world champion. Barry has been playing at halfback and fullback, and shows considerable ability as a ground-gainer. He is a bona fide student in the Northwestern University medical school, and is one of the most popular students in the institution. Northwestern denies that Barry will be played in any regular contests.

Eastern Team Tuned Up Ready for Big Battle

High School Girls Are Determined to Win the Victory in Basketball Contest—Other High School News of Interest.

The young ladies of Eastern are anxious to bring the basketball championship back to the Capitol Hill school this year, and are taking active measures to repeat their achievement of last year. There are six teams in the field already. The first team as announced last week is composed of Misses Yoder, captain; Paul, Pole, Wells, Gostin, Pyles, and Lockwood.

Miss Josephine McCoy, who was one of last year's champions has been compelled to leave the game this year. Her loss is a serious drawback to the team, for she was considered one of the best side-centers in the high schools. The young ladies of Eastern are preparing to entertain the football team at a banquet and dance at Jennings Hall on Thanksgiving evening. The program includes a supper to be served early in the evening, followed by a dance and general jollification. It has been the custom of the captain of the team to entertain the members after the season had closed and it is rumored at the school that Captain Fields will not sidestep this custom.

Captains Jrey and Tolson, of Companies 12 and 13 of the high school, has arranged to hold a combined dance at the Pythian Temple on November 24. It was understood that the Board of Education had decided to forbid the giving of dances by the various cadet companies this year and the action of the board on this case will be awaited with interest by the officers of the other companies.

There has been a scarcity of recruits for the companies at Business this year, and the scarcity becomes so alarming.

BASEBALL BRIEFS.

The statement that President Grillo, of the Toledo team, is losing no time in strengthening his club may be viewed with suspicion after the report that he has signed infielder Kruger. When a baseball umpire tries to become an undertaker, you can wager your roll it is going to be a stiff proposition. Garry Herrmann wants Roger Bresnahan. Russia wants a new navy, too. Dear Mike Donlin—One swallow does not make a summer, but too many swallows can make a hard winter.

"Pop" Anson is said to have the baseball fever again, and would like to put on a uniform and manage some club. Perhaps the Brooklyn club would like to give him a trial.

Nea Hanlon has had several offers from major league teams, but has not accepted any of them.

Just as luck would have it, "Rube" Waddell was the only one to meet with an accident in the big baseball parade. Frank Chance, of the Chicago National League Club, has left Chicago for California, where he will keep in shape for next season.

If "Old Reliable" Van Halten keeps on hitting the ball the way he has for the Oakland team on the Coast he is likely to be wanted in the big league again. You may talk of ball players coming and going, but this fellow "Van" seems to be the wonder of them all.

Monte Cross, of the Athletics, gives the Giants lots of praise for their work in the post-season games. "I never saw any better baseball played," said Monte.

The Detroit club officials say they will do all they can next season to bring the pennant to Detroit. They came along in the stretch pretty fast the past season. It is said that every club in the two big leagues made money the past season. In the American League, Chicago made $125,000; Philadelphia, $100,000;

SAWBONES' WEIGHT BEAT METHODISTS

Hospital Corps Walloped Rhode Island Church.

DOCTORS GOT A MOVE ON

Backs Thought They Had Snap and Played Slowly at First.

Moimon Scored.

The Rhode Island Avenue Methodist met the United States Hospital Corps yesterday at the south gate of Soldiers' Home and after struggling for thirty-five minutes the Surgeons got the decision, Moimon's touchdown in the second half giving his team the victory, 5 to 0.

The backs in the Hospital team were rather slow at first, but soon realized that they had a harder proposition before them than was expected. The R. I. M. outfit did not have the weight, but its swift work kept the score down to some extent. For the losers, Wright and Witten at full and Captain Bradley at left half all put up a game fight, but the extra pounds of the Doctors was against them.

Doctors Hit Line.

By way of variety R. I. M. would try an end run while the Surgeons made their most consistent gains on straight line bucking. The longest run was made by Sullivan. Fitzgerald was used to advantage several times. With only seven minutes left to play the Hospital eleven carried the oval down the field by rapid charges, and Moimon put it over for five points, thus demonstrating to the Methodist boys that they could also make operations on a gridiron as well as on a table. Seize missed goal.

Gills was laid out by being cut over the right eye.

HARVARD ELEVEN DEFEATED BROWN

Crimson Showed Improvement in Every Department.

ADVANCE NEVER STOPPED

Made Steady Gains Through Providence Team—Fistic Punting Duel a Feature.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 28.—Harvard defeated Brown on Soldiers' Field this afternoon by 19 to 0, in the presence of 15,000 people. Harvard outplayed her rivals by a comfortable margin in every department of the game. Not once was Harvard held for downs or forced to punt, while the Crimson line was like a stone wall to the Providence men. The play of the Harvard team was the best that the Cambridge players have shown this year, but was by no means a brilliant affair.

The feature of the game was the magnificent punting duel carried on by Burr and Adams. The greater part of the first half was devoted to kicking, and both men showed themselves past masters in the art. Only once was there a punt got off that did not go at least forty-five yards.

Harvard's attack was irresistible at all times though the gains were never long.

SLEEPS SEVENTY HOURS, MAY SLEEP MANY MORE

Young Lady of Kansas, in Peculiar Coma, Puzzles Hospital Attendants.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 28.—Miss Mabel McCoy, daughter of a well-to-do Kansas farmer, is a patient at the university hospital here, to be treated for extreme nervousness. Soon after arising early Saturday morning last, she felt sleepy and lay down, falling into a deep sleep, from which she has not yet been aroused. She has slept seventy hours, and may sleep several days, possibly a week longer, according to the statement of a physician, Dr. E. S. Stewart. Dr. Stewart says that Miss McCoy, who is twenty-one years old, is a strong robust young woman, and that he will not feel unusual concern in her case, until her sleep has extended to the time when it will be necessary to give her nourishment by artificial means.

GOTHAM CAMPAIGN AT FEVER HEAT

Remarkable Municipal Battle Nearing Close.

INDEPENDENTS CONFIDENT

Followers of Mayor McClellan Are Also Sure of Victory at the Coming Election.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Within a week of the end of the most remarkable municipal campaign New York ever has seen there is no sign that the great municipal ownership tide is going to turn. Mr. Hearst, J. G. Phelps Stokes, and their fellow-candidates have found the crowds that waited to hear them speak limited only by the size of the halls in various parts of the several boroughs. Straw ballots, taken not only by the friends of municipal ownership, but by the Republicans and Tammany Hall, show that the sentiment against the reigning power is growing, instead of diminishing. In many Tammany districts Murphy has discovered that his own workers are going to vote for Hearst. The attitude of Mayor McClellan is an index to the situation. At the outset he announced that he was going to make an occasional speech. Now he is making from three to four a day.

The campaign at the end of the week was marked by the greatest interest within the memory of any man now in New York politics. Altogether the campaign is one which will live long in the history of the city.

JEROME DECIDED FAVORITE IN NEW YORK BETTING

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Jerome was a decided favorite all day today on the Wall Street curb. J. J. Judge placed $2,500 on the favorite against F. Schwed's $2,000. Charles Head put up $900 on the field against Schwed's $1,000 on Jerome. Large sums of money were offered on Jerome at even, but found no takers. Odds on McClellan showed a tendency to lengthen today, and there was some talk that 3 to 1 was about as short as they would go. Odds have prevailed at 3 to 1 for several days, but yesterday F. Schwed bet $75 on McClellan against Anness and Newsman's $300. Very few bets were closed on the mayoralty result.
